The class room phase is done and you are standing on the tarmac. Brilliant blue skies are the backdrop across the grey landing strip. All you can see is horizon, runway markers, and the long black rubber remnants of a thousand landings. Now it is your chance to leave the ground and touch the clouds!

Asian Aeronautics Services Incorporated (AASI) has a long history in the aviation industry. For years AASI has been supplying Pilots with the things that they need to reach new heights. With our close ties to the educators, and our personal experience as pilots, we understand what the student needs. With this knowledge AASI has put together several packages that have the essential items every aviator should have.

After you get squared away and before you slide in to the cockpit, check out the great offers inside. If you are looking for something a pilot needs or wants AASI has it. It is up to you, chose between one of three Student Pilot Packages and go straight to the head of the class.

The Sulit Student Pack

Our basic package includes all of the essential items you need to start your journey as a pilot. Inside the beautiful Garmin gear bag you will find Industry Standard equipment. These Items have been handpicked by our Director of Operations, a pilot himself, and considers this the minimum a new student pilot needs.

The Junior Pilot Pack

The Junior Pilot Package is the stepping stone between our Sulit Pilot Pack and the Pro Package. This includes all of the essentials found in the Sulit Pack, plus an upgraded flight computer. Included is a GPS Tracker from QSTARZ, an invaluable item for training that logs your flight allowing you to review it on the ground. All of these items are then bundled into an ASA flight bag of your choice (Pro or Cargo).

The Pro Pilot Pack

The Pro Pilot Package is for the serious student who is looking for the best edge in their education. This includes all of the essentials found in the Sulit Pack and the extras in the Junior Pilot Pack. It has the GPS Tracker from QSTARZ, and a digital flight computer. All of these items are then bundled into an ASA flight bag of your choice (Pro or Cargo).

Garmin Portables

It is never too early to consider a Garmin portable! With the cost effective solutions available, you can get a jump on IFR flight with these handy GPS tools. Talk to a sales representative at AASI about all of the Garmin options.
